Losing and Living.

Focever the son is pouring his gold On a hundred worlds that beg and borrow; His warmth he squanders on sammits cold. His wealth on the homes of want and sorrow, To withhold his largess of precious light Is to bury himself in eternal night; To give Is to live.

The flower shines not for himself at all; Its joy is the joy it freely diffuses; Of beauty and balm it is prodigal, And it lives in the life it sweetly loses. No choice for the rose but glory or doom-To exhale or smother, to wither or bloom; To deny

Is to die. The sens lend silvery rain to the land, The land its supplier streams to the ocean The heart sends blood to the brain of command, The brain to the heart its lightning motion : And ever and ever we yield our breath-Till the mirror is dry and images death; To li-

Is to give. He is dead whose hand is not opened wide To bely the need of a human brother; He doubles the life of his life-long rade Who gives his fortunate place to another; And a thousand million lives are his Who carries the world in his sympathies: To deny Is to die.

Throw gold to the fair dispersing wave, And your ships sail home with tons of treasure, Care not for comfort, all hardship brave, And evening and age shall sup with pleasure; Fing health to the sanshine, wind and rain, And roses shall come to the check again ; To give Li to live.

What is our life? Is it wealth or strength? If we, for the Master's sake, will lose it, We shall find it a hundred-fold at length, While they shall forever lose who refuse it; And nations that save their union and peace At the cost of right their was shall increase : They save A grave.

Foreign Items.

Lofty example is catching, especially among the ladies. It has already been stated that Mrs. Lincoln, in doing her last shopping at New York, carried home her own bundles; and now it is "fashionable" SAN'L S. CASTLE. for ladies to do it. Mrs. Govenor Morgan attended C Gough's lecture at Albany, occupied a prominent seat and knit all the evening on her soldiers sock. At the next lecture all the women brought their knitting work.

A citizen of Salem, Mass., well known for his inventive genius, has concected a preparation which. when ignited, becomes an unquenchable flame of fire med brimstone. He proposes to put it up in glass bottles, make an ascension in a balloon, float over the camps of the rebels, toss over the bottles, which, upon breaking, will explode and set the camp on fire and and blow up ammunition wagons-making them as Sodom and Gomorrah.

The quantity of whiskey used in Ireland in 1724 was 133,783 gallons. In 1800 it increased to 3,621,-498 gallons and in 1839 to 12,000,000. About this period, in consequence of Father Matthew's exertions, the quantity decreased so much that from 1841 to '45 it averaged less than six millions of gallons. In 1859, the consumption amounted to six and a half millions of gallons, on which a duty of $12,600,000 was paid. Taking the increased duties into account, and the cost of licenses, fines, &c, the annual taxes on liquor paid by the Irish people to the English Government cannot be less than $20,000,000.

A TERRIBLE FATE FOR JEFF.-At a festival on some occasion among the soldiers in Missouri, one of them from Adrian offered the following extravagant sentiment, which is printed in a Missouri paper, from which we copy :

"JEFF DAVIS-May be be set affoat in an open boat without compass or rudder, may that boat and contents be swallowed by a shark, and the shark swallowed by a whale, the whale in the devil's belly, and the devil in hell, the door locked and key lost, and further, may be be chained in the southwest corner of hell, and a northeast wind blow ashes in his eyes to all eternity."

REVENUE OF U. S. POST OFFICES .- The Postmaste-r General reports the number of post-offices at the close of the fiscal year, including all in the revolted States at 28,620. The total revenue of the department for the whole year was $9,049,296, being $168,771 less than in 1860. The expenditures for the year amounted to $13,606,759, being less than in 1860 by $1,268,014. As the unproductive States in our postal system are almost oxclusively those that have attempted the suicidal rebellion and thus lost their mail service, it will be of interest to see, another year, the very large reduction that must occur in the postal expenditures, the service having been discontinued on the 30th of May last, one month before the close of the fiscal year

STATE OF FRANCE -To these who concern themselves with French politics, it is no secret that the Imperial Government is just now much embarrassed. Difficulties and trials will beset its path during the present winter. Its troubles are coming, not single spics, but in battalions. They are from many directions, and spring from many causes; some are mere accidents, others the result of the Emperor's own policy. In some we must smypathize with him, in others we are forced to say that the embarrassment is fully deserved. Priestly sedition, the animosities of Royalists and Republicans, foreign war, over-speculation and ever-specifing among private people, great extravagance in public works, and the maintenance of enormous armaments, are enough to make any Sovereign anxious; and now to these is added a deficient harvest, which has already begun to cause widespread distress and alarm. During the next three months the Emperor will need all his energy and tact; for with the first appearance of discontent, old fictions are reviving, new ones are coming into life, and, for the first time since the victories of 1859, the partisans of the fallen Government are finding courage to speak .- The Times.

Our Own Faults .- Let us not be over curious about the failings of others, but take account of our own ; let us bear in mind the excellences of other men, while we reckon up our own faults, for then shall we be well-pleasing to God For he who looks at the faults of others, and at his own excellences, is injured in two ways; by the latter he is carried up to arrogance, through the former he falls into listlessness. For when he perceives that such a one hath sinnel, very easily will be sin himself; when he perceives he hath in aught excelled very easily he becometh arrogant. He who consigns to oblivion his own excellences, and looks at his failings only, while he is a curious engineer of the excellences, not the sins, of others, is profitable in many ways. And how? I will tell you. When he sees that such a one hath done excellently, he is raised to emulate the same ; when he sees that he himself hath sinned, he is rendered humble and modest. If we act thus if we thus regulate ourselves, we shall be able to obtain the good things which we are promised through the love-kindness of our Lord Jesus Christ .- St. Chrysosto m.
